GOOGLE LLC’S UNOPPOSED MOTION FOR LEAVE TO FILE UNDER SEAL

Defendant Google LLC (“Google”) respectfully moves the Court for leave to file under seal Exhibits A, C, E, F, G, H, and L to its Response Brief to Plaintiffs’ Opening Brief to the Special Master for the February 22, 2024 Hearing (“Response Exhibits”). Consistent with Local Rule CV-5, Google will file redacted versions of its Response Exhibits within seven days. Plaintiffs do not oppose Google’s sealing request.

Google’s Response Exhibits have been designated as “Confidential” and “Highly Confidential” pursuant to the Confidentiality Order in this case, ECF No. 182, and in the parallel litigation pending in the Southern District of New York and the Eastern District of Virginia.

While “the public has a common law right to inspect and copy judicial records,” courts “must balance the public’s common law right of access against the interests favoring nondisclosure.” S.E.C. v. Van Waeyenbergh, 990 F.2d 845, 848 (5th Cir. 1993) (citations omitted). Good cause exists here to allow sealing, where the materials that Google requests to be sealed contain references to and discussion of non-public information that, if disclosed publicly, is likely to cause competitive and commercial harm to Google and therefore have been designated as “Confidential” and “Highly Confidential” pursuant to Court-ordered protective and confidentiality orders. See, e.g., Nixon v. Warner Commc'ns, Inc., 435 U.S. 589, 597–98 (1978) (recognizing that public access may be properly limited to protect “sources of business information that might harm a litigant’s competitive standing”); Conn Credit I, LP v. TF LoanCo III, LLC, No. 1:14-CV-429, 2016 WL 8231153, at *1 (E.D. Tex. May 9, 2016) (granting a motion to seal documents containing “large amount of confidential business information”); see also Local Rule CV-5(a)(7)(E).

Therefore, Google respectfully requests that the Court grant Google leave to file its Response Exhibits under seal.
